

On Your Own Project - Entertainment

Scenario: The day after your high school graduation, you have been forced to live on your own. This project is designed to give you experience and knowledge so that you will have familiarity for many of the responsibilities and costs that you will soon have to take care of. The more realistic you take this and the more effort you put into this, the better prepared you will be to face the important challenges of your financial future!

Entertainment

Type out a minimum of 1 full page paper about all of the different things that you're going to do to keep you entertained and happy. This assignment must be composed of complete sentences and in paragraph form. To get full credit, your paper must be a full 1 page minimum and adhere to the YLHS Research Paper Style Guide format. The things that you write about are not necessarily just things that cost money. If you do a good enough job on this, I should have a good idea of your personality.
